Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy

Central Swindon North Council Youth Services are firmly committed to the belief that all children and young people have a fundamental right to be protected from harm, and fully recognise their responsibility for child protection and to promote the welfare of children and young people. The safety and protection of all children and young people that the Parish Council supports is paramount, and has priority over all other interests.

This Child Protection & Safeguarding Policy has been produced with particular regard to the March 2015 Working Together to Safeguard Children legislation, the 2014 Safe Network Standards guidance and the 2016 Keeping Children Safe in Education document. This policy and accompanying procedures consider the services responsibilities under the July 2015 Prevent Duty and the October 2015 Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) legislation. Finally, throughout Youth Services Child Protection & Safeguarding policy, relevant policies and procedures have been informed and shaped by the very latest in best practice provided by the NSPCC as of March 2016.

The Parish Council encourages a culture of listening where children can engage in dialogue with any staff member and where their disclosures are believed and acted upon immediately. Throughout Youth Services we have a fundamental belief that the views and wishes of children and young people are sought in ways that are appropriate to their age, culture and understanding.

“The Equality Act 2010 puts a responsibility on public authorities to have due regards to the need to eliminate discrimination and promote equality of opportunity. This applies to the process of identification of need and risk faced by the individual child and the process of assessment. No child or group of children must be treated any less favourably than others in being able to access effective services which meet their needs

In practice this means that ALL children, young people and vulnerable adults irrespective of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation, have a fundamental and universal right to be safe and not discriminated against through the decisions made regarding safeguarding and child protection.

The purpose of this Safeguarding Policy is to ensure, always, the maximum protection from any kind of harm for all young people involved in any way with Youth Services. For the purposes of this policy, Youth Services has defined harm as: ‘Harm’ means ill-treatment or the impairment of health or development including, for example, impairment suffered from seeing or hearing the ill treatment of another. The Equality Act 2010 defines discrimination as:

- Associative discrimination - this is direct discrimination against someone because they are associated with another person who possesses a protected characteristic.
- Indirect discrimination - this can occur when you have a rule or policy that applies to everyone but disadvantages a person with a protected characteristic.

- Direct discrimination - where someone is treated less favourably than another person because of a protected characteristic.
- Discrimination by perception - this is direct discrimination against someone because others think that they possess a protected characteristic. They do not necessarily have to possess the characteristic, just be perceived to.
- Harassment - this is behaviour that is deemed offensive by the recipient. Employees can now complain of the behaviour they find offensive even if it is not directed at them.
- Victimisation - this occurs when someone is treated badly because they have made or supported a complaint or grievance under this legislation.

In order to escalate a (series of) concern(s) to a Section 47 child protection referral to the local authority, significant harm should be evidenced clearly. It is important to remember that often, only when information held by several professionals and agencies is put together, that a picture of child abuse emerges.

Within the Keeping Children Safe in Education document, 19 specific safeguarding themes are identified. These are:

- Missing Children and adult strategy
- Children missing education
- Child missing from home or care
- Preventing radicalisation
- Child sexual exploitation
- Trafficking
- Fabricated or induced illness
- Faith Abuse
- Female genital mutilation
- Mental Health
- Forced marriage
- Gangs and youth violence
- Gender based violence/violence against women and girls –
- Hate crime
- Bullying including cyberbullying
- Private fostering
- Relationship Abuse
- Domestic violence
- Sexting

Recognising Abuse and Neglect

Abuse may occur to any child at any time in different forms. Child abuse can be direct, indirect (via the internet), active or passive and it can be committed by anyone, including adults and other children. Abuse can be split into 4 main categories:

Emotional Abuse

The persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, though it may occur alone.

Physical Abuse

A form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

Neglect

The persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. It may involve a parent or carer failing to provide adequate food and clothing, shelter including exclusion from home and abandonment, failing to protect a child from physical harm or danger. Failure to ensure adequate supervision including the use of inadequate 5 care-takers; or Failure to ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs. When any of the above is suspected it is vital to take appropriate action immediately to safeguard the child/children. Consideration should be given to any other child that could potentially be affected by your decision. The decision should be discussed with the Designated Safeguarding Officer and/or Parish Clerk in the first instance. If this is not possible or should you deem immediate action is required in the interest of the child's safety and welfare, then escalate this to MASH on 0300 4560108.

Sexual Abuse

Involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.

Prevent

Prevent is part of the Government's counter-terrorism strategy CONTEST which aims to stop people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism. The Prevent strategy addresses all forms of terrorism and prioritises according to the threat posed to national security.

Roles and Reasonability's

The role of the designated safeguarding officer is;

- Raising awareness of safeguarding policy and process.
- Availability of the designated lead in the event of an emergency – alternative arrangements need to be made if there are exceptional circumstances and the Designated Lead cannot be contacted.

- Ensuring the provision of a safeguarding officer.
- Staff training – ensuring all staff and volunteers attend a basic safeguarding course or have relevant safeguarding training.
- Establishing a safe and nurturing environment where children/young people feel safe and happy.

Policy Procedures

We recognise that staff/volunteers who work regularly with children/young people are best placed to notice changes in behaviour and/or physical injuries.

We will therefore:

- Report any unusual / inappropriate behaviour to the Safeguarding Officer.
- Ensure that children and young people know they can approach any of the adults who encounter the service if they are worried about something and that they will receive a consistent, supportive response.

- Never assume that others are monitoring a child or young person. Others may have doubts, but you could be the only person acting.
- If in any uncertainty about what action to take, employees must seek advice from the named Safeguarding Officer.

We will also:

- Ensure that our Designated Safeguarding Officer receives Specialist Safeguarding training, refreshed every two years,
- Ensure that all staff/volunteers receive basic Safeguarding training every three years.
- Confirm that all staff/volunteers have read this safeguarding policy and know who the Designated Safeguarding Officer is in case they need to pass on concerns.
- Keep accurate written records of concerns for a child/young person, even in cases where a referral is not appropriate immediately.
- Ensure that all staff/volunteers are recruited safely and have had the appropriate checks, (e.g. DBS) which are re-checked every two years.
- All new staff and volunteers are supervised until references have been verified and DBS checks received.
- Confirm that all staff/volunteers are aware that they must refer any allegations against a member of staff/volunteer to the Designated Safeguarding Officer who will then report to the Local Authority.
- Our safeguarding officer is Andy Reeves.
- Our Designated Officer (LADO) is Steph McQuade, contactable on 01793 466849.

Action to Ensure Security

Instant action must be necessary at any stage when involved with families and young people. In every case it is of paramount importance to take whatever arrangements possible to provide the safety of any young person involved.

- If a young person is in immediate danger the police should be contacted, as they alone have the power to remove a young person immediately if protection is necessary.
- If emergency medical attention is required, then either phone the emergency services or take young person to the nearest A and E department.

Personal/Recruitment

Safer Recruitment Safeguarding the children, young people and vulnerable adults who the Parish Council has contact with is an essential consideration at the recruitment stage. All staff and volunteers are required to attend interview and provide references. Key safeguarding related procedures during this process include;

- Taking all reasonable steps to prevent unsuitable people from joining our organisation
- To guarantee that our recruitment and selection processes are consistent and transparent
- To confirm applicants are judged to be competent and suitable before we make them an offer of a job.

We identify that inappropriate persons sometimes seek out openings via employment or volunteering to have contact with young people to harm them. We minimise risks at the recruitment/induction stages by:

- Obtain two references, two pieces of identification and original copies of any necessary qualifications from candidates which are always verified.
- For potential workers that are recruited and will be in 'regulated activity' a DBS with Barred list check must be carried out. DBS is only current up until the day of which it is printed. If potential employees are signed up to the update service, you can then conduct your own check otherwise a new DBS should be carried out.
- Involving more than one person to shortlist applicants for interview.
- Having at least two people conducting a face-to-face interview with anyone who seeks employment. This is inclusive of volunteers also.
- Include young people and local families on the interview process.
- Staff have a duty to report any criminal investigation within one working day. Should no disclosures be made, DBS checks should be renewed for existing staff every 2 years.
- Safeguarding training suitable to job role should form part of the induction process.
- Provide an induction for all new staff and volunteers.
- Guaranteeing that all staff are made aware, during their induction period, of how to keep children and young people safe in our organisation.
- Safeguarding a consistent procedure for recruitment, selection and induction.
- All employees/volunteers will need to provide a record of their full employment history and explain any gaps.

Reporting Abuse

If abuse is suspected:

- The matter must not be investigated or discussed with anyone other than the Safeguarding Member/officer or Parish Clerk.
- Notes, conversations or concerns will be recorded, signed and dated.
- The Safeguarding Officer and safeguarding member will assess the information and will contact the LCSS team for advice and guidance.

If abuse is reported/alleged:

- If a child/young person asks to speak to you about a problem, DO NOT promise confidentiality, but explain that it may be necessary to consult a senior colleague. Explain this as soon as possible to the child/young person.
- Halt and listen if someone wanted to tell you about suspicions of abuse. Listen quietly and actively, giving your undivided attention.
- Stay calm and give reassurance to the child/young person and state that they have done the right thing.
- Establish the facts of what has happened but do not ask leading questions. Do not criticise the perpetrator and state you will pass on relevant information on to the safeguarding officer.

There are a range of risks from:

- Risk of Youth Worker 'hearing' things about young people, mainly through 'news feeds.'
- Risk of youth worker being 'on shift' with young people outside of work hours.
- Risk of young people sharing personal information to staff members.
- Risk of witnessing safeguarding incidents.
- Risk of safeguarding disclosures.

We manage these risks by a thorough risk assessment will be carried out for work with young people. The same applies online. By following simple steps staff will be managing these online risks.

Staff behaviour guidelines

When using social media, staff should uphold a professional communication. Language should be managed in the same way that it would be when working directly with young people and staff's role is always to be a positive role model. Youth Services will always run an advertised regular session, however, sometimes circumstances beyond our control happen and despite our best efforts to rectify a problem we may need to cancel a session. The following process will be followed when this is necessary:

Senior Youth worker will inform all staff and volunteers who were due to work the session. The Senior Youth Worker will try their best to inform all young people / parents who are likely to attend the session. We will also put out a post on our social media channels and a poster will be placed on the venue door where the session was due to take place.
